BOARD MESSAGE

Dear Members,

Sláinte- We all could all use a health toast during this cold and flu season and not just when we are toasting with a drink.

On January 13th, I flew to New York City to spend an entire day with the 501c3 Irish Cultural Centers across North America and Toronto. The New York Consul General began this outreach program three years ago. Initially when the day began I was in a room full of strangers with one thing in common - Irish Culture and programming. The Irish Consul General's office is on the 17th floor of a building on Lexington Avenue in New York City. We were fortunate to be joined by a director of the Abbey Theatre and the Irish Arts Center in NYC that raised 60 million dollars.

I mention my visit because it was a brilliant networking opportunity for the United Irish Cultural Center in San Francisco to be a part of the Irish Centers of North America. 2019 was a year of major transformation. As I have mentioned before we went from a 501c7 members only social club that had seen a decline in membership, declining revenue in banquet, bar and restaurant facilities and accelerating operational costs that could not be offset by the original business structure that was started in 1975. Last year, we operated strictly as a 501c3 non profit. This new business structure allows donors and members a tax deduction when making a donation to the UICC. These two major changes are what got us through 2019. The 501c3 business structure has opened up greater access and support from foundations and the Irish Government to promote cultural programs for all. In 2019, we received $17,000 from the Irish Government Emigrant Support Programme and $10,000 from the Gellert Foundation. We will continue to apply for more grants. Once again, operationally, if we were to rely on our cultural events and event venue space rental we would not have made it.

As we enter into 2020 and celebrate our 45 Years on 45th Avenue, we must take time to honor our accomplishments while pondering our future. When speaking to representatives of other Irish Centers across the country, they too have had to take time for reflection and really think about long term plans and goals. Some of the thoughts that swirled in my head as I headed home on the plane were:

Do we have the member support?

Could we raise $60 million to do a major overhaul to our building?

Where is the Irish Center's place in the Irish Community of San Francisco?

Who is our audience for cultural events?

Can we generate enough revenue through event venue rentals? Cultural programming?

How much money can we get in grants? Who will write the grant application?

What will the Center look like in 3 years? 5 years?

How many original members are still coming to the Center?

How many will come to the 45 Years on 45th Avenue?

My return flight from New York was 6 hours and 45 minutes. I had a lot of time to reflect and ask a lot of questions.

How many members paid their dues? Made a donation?

What else can we do to get people to the Center?

Are there artists out there that would like to come to the Center?

How do we get the artists that are coming to LA to come to SF?

IF we rebuild it, will they come?

I wish I had a crystal ball and could see what was coming for the Irish Center but I don't.

Our priorities of the board this year are:

Cultural programming - bring in new cultural programming.

Membership - increase membership numbers and increase the number of members that pay dues. Continue to work on membership incentives.

Fundraise - This will always be crucial to our bottom line and trying to get ahead.

Event venue - promote our space. Make it an all functional space.

And TO BE THE BEST ON THE WEST!

How can you help?

We need volunteers for Saint Patricks Week.

We need volunteers for "45 Years on 45th Avenue" Jubilee on April 25th.

We need volunteers for clean up days.

We need volunteers to do odd jobs around the Center.

Pay your $150 dues. IF we got 1000 members paying $150 we would have $150,000. IF we got 2000 members to pay we would have $300,000. Dues help offset operational costs, pay for cultural programming, maintenance and salaries.

If we don't have a foundation of funds then we have to tighten our belts. That means less cultural events, cutting hours so that someone does not answer the phones or get back to you in a timely manner and deferring maintenance on our aging building.

The Dowling Library Asks

 Glows Bay-wide welcome; her mild eyes command
 The golden-bridged harbor that our City frames.
 “Recall children of Eire, your toil and joys in the City by the Bay!” cries she
 With silent lips. “Give me your stories, your scrapbooks,
 Your letters and souvenirs, longing to be shared,
 The ephemera of your days gone by.
 Send these, that we might celebrate our shared journey, to me
 I lift my lamp in welcome at the Dowling Library’s green door!”

— inspired by “The New Colossus” by Emma Lazarus, 1883

The Patrick J. Dowling Library of the United Irish Cultural Center is actively seeking ephemera, memorabilia, and souvenirs which document the activities, accomplishments and history of the Irish and Irish-American community in San Francisco and the greater Bay Area to add to display and preserve in the library’s archive.

The library is also reviving the Center’s oral history project and is seeking to interview those men and women who were actively involved in the planning and building of the library. Appointments for interviews at the center may be made Tuesdays and Thursdays at 4pm and some Saturdays.

The exhibit of these items and stories will be a part of a curated exhibit as a part of the 45 years on 45th Avenue celebration.

Please email Jennifer Drennan, librarian@irishcentersf.org, with your interest and to arrange donation drop-offs and interviews. Thank you!

'Press came in pours of rain': Printing & Irishness at Cuala Press

Elizabeth Corbet Yeats' journal entry for November 24, 1902, Press came in pours of rain, reads now like a harbinger of the lifelong challenges she faced in working to keep her publishing press, known first as Dun Emer and then as Cuala, alive, if not ever thriving. Yet despite family differences, daily grinding money needs and her own health challenges, Elizabeth Yeats kept the press in production for 38 years, printing over 60 books and countless cards, brochures and especially broadsides. Especially during the early years of the press, Elizabeth Yeats also examined her ideas about her own Irishness. The tumultuous years of Irish rebellion and the establishment of the Irish state, the development by her brother and others of the Abbey Theatre to foreground plays by Irish writers, and her brother Jack Yeats' enduring interest in scenes of Irish culture as shown through his paintings and drawings, all influenced her personal identity as an Irish citizen. Lolly Yeats was also a publisher, a businesswoman, a printer, a painter, an employer, a daughter and a sister. This talk will explore and celebrate Elizabeth Yeats's multiple accomplishments, and will highlight the Dowling Library's very own copy of Cuala Press's most famous print, The Fiddler of Dooney.

Kathleen Walkup is Lovelace Family Professor of Book Art at Mills College. She has been writing and lecturing about women and printing since the 1980s. Her seasonal blog, New Irish Journal, chronicles her summer journeys to Ireland over the past 10 years.

Together with her sister, jeweler Kathleen, artist Annie Holland's work returns to the UICC!

Co-Sponsored by the Patrick J. Dowling Library, Annie Holland will bring her inspired works to your center. The exhibit kicks off it's time at your center with a reception on Friday, March 13. Together with her sister, jeweller Kathleen Holland, these talented Irish-women will bring their unique takes on art and environmental responsibility. Many of the pieces displayed will be available for purchase. Stay tuned!

Annie Holland trained as an artist in Ireland, Scotland and Wales gaining a Master of Arts degree in Ceramics and Product Design; and later whilst living in Japan began studying photography.

In 1990 Kathleen Holland began her studies in sculpture and metalwork, studying in Cork, Glasgow, San Francisco and Dublin completing her B.A. in Craft and Design at the National College of Art and Design in Dublin. In San Francisco she created individually crafted pieces for musician Prince (the artist formerly known as), members of the X-Files television series and members of the cast of the film The Godfather. The award-winning Kathleen Holland Designs was established in 2001. Holland's designs incorporate the boldness of sculptural design with the elegance of metal work to present an entirely unique set of collections.

FR. MICHAEL HEALY-2019 CORKMAN OF THE YEAR

—by Liam Reidy

Over 300 people attended the annual Rebel Cork Dinner last month at the United Irish Cultural Center, and once again the organizing committee can take a bow for a wonderful evening during which well known local priest Fr. Michael Healy was honored as the 2019 Corkman of the Year.

There were rave reviews from attendees as they exited the Center once the curtain finally came down on the evening's festivities. Hats off to Angela Tickler, Manager at the Irish Center and her staff, for making sure the evening passed off without a hitch. Not even the afternoon cloud burst of rain that caused severe flooding locally and all across the Bay Area for a time could put a damper on preparations going on within the majestic St. Patrick's room.

Great credit to Maureen Kelly and Knights Catering who served up a delicious meal, and the entertainment which was kicked off by Ivor Collins, and Paddy Homan (from Chicago) and followed by great music and songs from Ben Hunter and the Celtic Scandal band.

A prologue from Fr. Michael Mahoney about Fr. Healy's life, was followed by Rebel Cork Benevolent Association President Timmy Manning, taking center stage to present Fr. Michael with the coveted Corkman of the Year award.

Born in 1945 on the banks of the Lee in Cork City, Fr. Michael is the youngest of seven children. His father, a native of Clare, was a member of the nascent Garda Síochána (Irish police) during the early years of the Irish Republic. His badge number was #54. Sadly and most unfortunately his mother died of a heart attack (aged only 47 years) when Fr. Michael was just three years old. Life was not easy after the loss of his mother as the children had to raise each other while his Dad brought home the regular pay check.

Fr. Michael's formal education was procured at Coláiste Chríost Rí at both elementary and grammar school level. This excellent foundation would stand to him for the rest of his life. Not every body reached the Leaving Certificate level school in those days in Ireland—all of the Healy's did, where there was a strong value placed on education from an early age.

As a youngster growing up on Cork city, Gaelic games was the prominent sporting activity on the Banks of the River Lee in the 1960's, and it was with the famed St. Finbarr's club that Fr. Mike made an early impression, in hurling and especially in Gaelic football. He stood out at U-14 level as a kid that had potential and that was realized as he rose through the under-age ranks of the Cork county teams. He played County Minor and U-21 Football for the Rebels (loosing both the 1962 and 1963 Munster Minor final and the 1966 Munster final to arch rivals Kerry). He also captained St. Finbarr's to a Cork county Minor football title. While playing with the 'Bars teammates included Gerald and Charlie McCarthy and Con Roche. On the Cork team he lined out with legends like Billy Morgan, Frank Hogan, and Tony Maher.

Fr. Michael entered All Hallows Seminary in Dublin in 1964. After six years of study he was ordained a Catholic priest in 1970 and shortly afterwards an invitation from Archbishop McGuckin from the archdiocese of San Francisco heralded the beginning of his pastoral ministry. Fr. Michael has been stationed for periods of time at St Gabriel's, St. Phillip's, Epiphany, and St. Brendan's in San Francisco, St. Raymond's in Menlo Park, All Souls in South San Francisco, and more recently St. Bartholomew's in San Mateo. Following his arrival to St. Barts (once the former original Serra High school), Fr. Michael spearheaded a $3.5 million capital improvement project in the parish, which came in on time and under budget.

During the 1970's Fr. Michael played gaelic football with the Shannon Rangers locally and played alongside people like Con Brosnan, Jim Fogarty, Michael Moriarty, Coley Gavin and Patrick Burke.

Within the broader community Fr. Michael was instrumental in establishing the Joseph and Mary group in the city to look after the hundreds of Irish immigrants arriving here in the 1980's. This group laid the groundwork for what came later, and what we all know today as the Irish Immigration and Pastoral Center.

Fr. Michael has served as the San Francisco Police Department chaplain for the past 17 years, and is the go to priest for numerous members of the force for pastoral services. Nationally, Fr. Mike has served as the deputy National Chaplain for the Ancient Order Of Hibernians.

We congratulate Fr. Michael on receiving the highest local honor from his fellow Corkmen and women, and best wishes on celebrating 50 years as a priest in 2020. We wish him all the best in his retirement this year!
